

See How The Garden Grows

© Courtney Campbell-all rights reserved reprints by permission only

Prologue-spoken

One day my Mother found me in the garden.
Whatchya doin? Planting. Hmmmm, she said. Whatchya planting? Mashed potatoes. Mashed potatoes?
Yup. You know you can't plant mashed potatoes. I can't? No. You have to plant potato seeds and grow potatoes. When the potatoes are grown you can cook them and then you can make mashed potatoes. Oh.
Well. Can we plant potato seeds? Sure.

(sung)

First you put the holes into the ground
Drop the seeds in
And cover them with earth
Give them water and shower them with love
I love you, I love you, I love you
And see how the garden grows

Chorus

See how the garden grows
See how the garden grows
Oh what a marvelous sight
Oh what a marvelous sight
To see how the garden grows

After a while the seeds grow sprouts
They pop up green
Through the soft brown earth
Give them water and shower them with love
I love you, I love you, I love you
And see how the garden grows

Chorus

Bridge

Isn't amazing, isn't a miracle
Things are growing everywhere
From a little tiny seed
Grows a great big tree
Or a fruit or a flower or a vegetable
I like potatoes

Green beans, carrots, roses and sunflowers
Raspberries, strawberries, orange and lemon trees
Give them water and shower them with love
I love you, I love you, I love you
And see how the garden grows

Chorus

Epilogue-spoken

Can we plant something else? Sure. Whatchya want to plant? Gravy.